Highlights of April Delta Sigma Meeting

On April 28, 2022 the Delta Sigma Chapter met to honor scholarship and award winners, recognize membership milestones, and induct nine new members. Special guests included scholarship winners and their guests along with Representative Jason Saine.

The dinner meeting was hosted by the Scholarship and Awards Committee, chaired by Judy Shuford. Judy Jones welcomed those in attendance and provided the invocation.

Pat Carpenter and Judy Jones presented the Delta Sigma scholarships and awards for 2022. Three local high school seniors planning to enter the field of education each received $1000 scholarships. The chapter also awarded an Advanced Degree Scholarship, the Buzzing BEE Award, and a Professional Development Award.

During the business portion of the meeting, the agenda and minutes were approved. Following a fundraising report, President Kennan Eaddy shared announcements and reminders.

Read more about scholarship and award winners on pages 3 & 7. New members are highlighted on pages 5-7 and membership milestones are listed on page 4.

President's Message

Greeting Delta Sigma Members!

I hope you are all doing well as we wind down the school year and head into summer. As the logistics of school have begun to return to normal, our teachers and staff have faced new challenges in mitigating the effects of the pandemic years on their students. I am proud of all the effort of our working members in helping their students find success and the efforts of our retired members in supporting students and staff alike.

In preparing my final president's message, I think of the past two years and Delta Sigma's accomplishments despite the whirlwind of challenges we faced having to move our chapter activities to virtual. I was so uplifted by the attendance at our last meeting, the first and only dinner meeting I presided over as President. Trying to figure out how to navigate the challenges of the pandemic was challenging for sure. I sincerely appreciate the encouragement, support, help and participation of all our members.

I am excited to install our new officers during our summer planning meeting and to get to know our newest members next year. As we focus on fellowship and relationships, I urge you to reach out to your fellow Delta Sigma members. Whether that be for a sister-sister activity, for questions, or just a catch-up, use your Delta Sigma sisters for the support and encouragement we all need.

Sincerely,

Kennan Eaddy

Delta Sigma President, 2020-2022

Congratulations to Delta Sigma for achieving Superior Chapter status for 2021-2022.

Recognition, Awards, and Celebrations of Members

Congratulations to Wendy Mosteller and Stephanie Schou on their retirement from Lincoln County Schools!

A Relay for Life article appeared in the April 27th Lincoln Times-News containing interview comments from Frankie Beam. A cancer survivor herself, Frankie shared her cancer journey and that of several family members. Her advocacy and continued support of Relay for Life began in the mid-90's. We celebrate Frankie and her commitment to fundraising efforts for the American Cancer Society.

Please share joyous and celebratory news with our members. Email your news to the newsletter editor.

Committee Reports/Announcements

Finance Committee (Libby Fletcher): The Finance Committee appreciates the members who have paid their dues and ask those who have not to get them in as soon as possible. (See details on page 1.)

Communication and Marketing Committee (Elaine Boysworth): Delta Sigma recently received the Communications Excellence Award. Each member of the C&M Committee has played a valuable role in our communication efforts. Thank you!

June "Sister-Sister" Activity

School's out and it's time for summer fun and relaxation! Between now and June 27th, contact your sister-sister partner to discuss your summer plans. Whether you have fabulous travel plans or you just plan to relax around the house or pool, it will be a fun topic to discuss with your sister partner and learn more about her. Pick up the phone and make a sister-sister connection!

Delta Sigma Scholarship and Award Winners Announced

The work of the Delta Sigma Scholarship Committee, chaired by Judy Shuford, culminated with the announcement of scholarships and awards at the April 28th meeting. Three $1,000 scholarships were presented to young women planning to enter the field of education, including the Annette Geymont Memorial Future Educator Scholarship for Lincoln County students. This scholarship is awarded in memory of Annette who passed away in 2019. Annette was a charter member of Delta Sigma and touched many lives as a teacher during her thirty year career. The scholarship is provided through the generosity of her family.

The recipient of The Annette Geymont Memorial Future Educator Scholarship was Cailin Marie Walker, daughter of Pastor Chad and Misti Walker of Iron Station, NC. Cailin is a recent graduate of East Lincoln High School and will be attending the University of North Carolina at Charlotte in the fall. In her application essay, Cailin stated, “Now, more than ever, teachers are not solely their student’s educator but their role models, motivators, and the lens through which they first experience new ideas. I am motivated and eager to aid and encourage my future students to succeed on their own journeys of education.”

Recipients of two additional Delta Sigma Future Educator Scholarships were Lori Elizabeth Glavan and Elizabeth Ashley Eudy. Lori is the daughter of Bogomir and Rebecca Glavan of Denver, NC and recently graduated from North Lincoln High School. She also plans to attend the University of North Carolina at Charlotte in the fall. Lori shared, “Following the COVID school shutdown, I felt helpless upon watching student after student struggle through virtual instruction.” She jumped at the opportunity to assist students in her community by accepting a position as a YMCA school-aged counselor. She commented, “As I helped students with their remote learning assignments ... my desire to create a world of motivated, excited learners was ignited. I am eager to connect with students on an even larger scale, in the near future, sparking students’ curiosity to learn for their personal betterment.”

Elizabeth Eudy, the daughter of Jennifer and the late Jonathan Eudy of Lincolnton, NC is a graduate of Lincolnton High School and plans to attend Western Carolina University. She states in her essay, “My aspiration to be a teacher began in elementary school, because I had so many amazing teachers growing up...I fulfilled this aspiration by going home, teaching my stuffed animals or Barbie Dolls, and transforming my bedroom into a classroom with the use of my imagination. My third grade teacher knew I wanted to become a teacher, so she gave me leftover worksheets that I pretended to grade.” Elizabeth is enthusiastic about becoming a teacher.

Madison Green received The Buzzy BEE (Beginning Educator Excelling) Award. This award is presented to a female beginning teacher who demonstrates a natural gift for teaching. Madison is a mathematics teacher at Lincolnton High School. She was nominated for the award by her principal, Scott Carpenter who wrote, “There are many things that make Madison a great teacher.” Particularly, he has noticed she will not let struggling students fail – she provides assistance before and after school and pre-teaches her lessons. “When her at-risk students enter her classroom, they have already been acclimated to the lesson. They will join in the conversation and participate in class. Their confidence level has excelled to new heights. It is so exciting to see a former struggling student beam with confidence and most importantly, success.”

Membership Milestones Celebrated

On April 28th, Delta Sigma celebrated eleven members attaining membership milestones during the past three years. Honorees were presented with a service pin and recognized for their long-term commitment to Delta Sigma and DKG.

Collectively, these extraordinary ladies have been involved in DKG for over 375 years. They were all involved in the creation of the Delta Sigma chapter and have contributed numerous hours to our chapter's growth and success. They have served on and chaired various committees; planned and implemented our service projects; chaired the fashion show fundraiser; planned the brunch menu for the fashion show, ensuring all the cooking and kitchen work flowed smoothly; served as a chapter officer (there are four past-presidents among the honorees); and two of them have served as a regional director for NC DKG.

Thank you, ladies, for your years of service and continued dedication to our Delta Sigma Chapter and DKG!

*Sara Miller,
Wanda Lutz,
and Judy Shuford*

*Becky Heavner, Edwina Beam,
and Gayle Reid*

Frankie Beam and Jill Eaddy

These eleven remarkable ladies were recognized and honored again in the 2022 NC DKG Convention program in the ad pictured below. They are our "stars" and have been major contributors to the field of education, our community, our chapter and the Society.

Delta Sigma Fundraiser Update

The Delta Sigma Teacher Appreciation Fundraiser was a success! The chapter received $4110.00 in donations. After paying for signs, cards, and ads to recognize teachers, the amount available for the 2022-2023 scholarship fund and beginning teacher support activities is $2979.04.

Thanks to Kennan Eaddy, Kelton Stone Boorman, and Rhonda Hager for organizing this fundraising event and to all members who asked for donations, made donations, and delivered signs. What a wonderful show of support for our teachers – past and present!

Delta Sigma member Abbey Parker was awarded the Delta Sigma Advanced Degree Scholarship. She is working on a graduate degree in School Counseling from North Carolina State University. While teaching at the middle school level, Abbey realized that her students' needs went far beyond the classroom and they needed additional social and emotional support. She felt called to the role of school counseling in order to serve students in a more intentional way. Abbey is currently a counselor at Lincolnton High School.

The Delta Sigma Professional Development Award was presented to Rhonda Hager, a retiree of Lincoln County Schools where she served as a teacher, principal, director, and assistant superintendent. Rhonda is a former president of Delta Sigma and has accepted the role again for the upcoming biennium. This award will support her attendance at an upcoming DKG International Convention in New Orleans where she will network with other DKG leaders and learn more about International programs and resources.

Congratulations to all Delta Sigma scholarship and award recipients!

2022 In-Person NC DKG Convention Highlights

Members attending NC DKG's first in-person convention in three years expressed joy in seeing friends and making new ones! DKG President Becky Sadoski charmed attendees with her open personality. NC DKG President Beth Winsted warmly welcomed everyone with big smiles. Genuine spiritual fellowship abounded!

The 88th NC DKG Convention "Linking the Past Present, and Future . . . Together Again!" was held April 29 – May 1, 2022 at the Asheville Crowne Plaza Resort. Delta Sigma members Kennan Eaddy (President), Rhonda Hager (Past-President), and Kelton Stone Boorman (Vice President) were in attendance representing "the past, present, and future" leadership of our chapter. They were actively involved as volunteers, greeters, presenters, leaders, and participants.

Friday morning, Rhonda volunteered to assist with the convention project by working at the MANNA FoodBank for three hours. Rhonda shared, "This experience was so insightful to see the inner workings of a large food bank operation. My group sorted through boxes of donated green peppers to redistribute. One of MANNA's goals is to get fresh produce to folks, and it requires a tight turnaround time to get the food utilized while it is still usable. The sorting of all kinds of sizes, shapes, colors, and conditions of green peppers was very hands-on and our group was able to get many boxes ready to go out that morning to places that could utilize the fresh produce." MANNA works to end food insecurity in the mountains of Western North Carolina. NC DKG members contributed $983 to support the FoodBank.

The Opening General Meeting Friday evening focused on chapter and member awards. According to Kelton, "It was wonderful seeing all the members of DKG being honored for their commitment and hard work within their regions." Delta Sigma was recognized by the Communications and Marketing Committee for Communications Excellence. This award encompasses both newsletter and website excellence. The Awards Committee also announced Chapter Achievement Awards.

Delta Sigma was named a Superior Chapter.

The opening meeting also provided a unique experience for Kelton. She reported, "At the beginning of 2020, I was awarded the Don and Maxine McCall Endowment Fine Arts Grant through NC DKG. Maxine McCall spoke at the opening meeting, and afterward, I was able to introduce myself and express to her my gratitude. She was curious about what I had done with the grant. I was able to tell her where her grant had been applied in my elementary music classroom. That was a true HIGHLIGHT of my trip."

Saturday was a very full day of convention activities including the NC DKG Education Foundation Annual Meeting, Second General Session, 24 breakout sessions, and an evening banquet honoring chapter presidents.

Rhonda and Kelton volunteered to serve boxed lunches. During this time, Kelton reconnected with a former teacher and principal from her time in elementary and middle school in Cleveland County. "They were excited to see a former student of theirs in DKG and education," Kelton stated. Rhonda also volunteered to serve as a greeter at several sessions.

Kennan and Rhonda presented a small group session on the career development emphasis Lincoln County Schools has embraced. They reviewed the importance of a systematic intentional approach county-wide for career development beginning in elementary school and explored many specific examples from Lincoln County. In elementary school they looked at GEMS club (Girls Exceeding in Math and Science), career fairs, field trips, and career research projects.

In middle school, they looked at career camps, Gaston College Tours and the Major Clarity career and college readiness platform. They also explored the relationship of Lincoln County Schools and Gaston College for high school students who are preparing for a career or college transfer. The session concluded with great conversation and feedback from the attending members.

Rhonda also attended a Regional Directors meeting Saturday afternoon where outgoing directors met with incoming directors and shared information. She conveyed with enthusiasm, “The convention was so much fun seeing folks in person after two years of not having a convention.”

The banquet honoring chapter presidents was the highlight of Saturday evening. President Kennan Eaddy is pictured to the right with the Delta Sigma flag she carried into the Presidents Banquet.

Sunday morning, the Ceremony of Remembrance honored 52 sisters with white roses. The Convention Chorus also performed at this event.

The conference concluded with the 88th Annual Birthday Brunch celebrating both founders and members. Attendees were involved in a Founders Activity reflecting on the bios of four of the twelve founding members of DKG. In addition, twenty-one members were recognized and presented “Milestones of Membership” framed certificates, including the appropriate DKG service pin from five to 45 years.

Kennan shared the following comments about her conference experience. “If you’ve never been to a NC DKG conference, I would recommend you consider it next year. I find it unique because breakout sessions include presentations on society business, professional learning, and personal growth. This year I was able to attend a session on developing a chapter newsletter, present a session on K-12 career development, and then attend a session on healthy eating.

The newsletter session was very helpful in beginning the transition process to being the next newsletter editor, although I’m not sure there is any magic session that will help me fill Elaine Boysworth’s very giant shoes!

For our professional session, we gave very specific examples of career development activities that members could take back to their chapters and districts. And while I didn’t expect to learn much at all from the healthy eating session, it actually caused me to change the schedule and contents of my meals and snacks! Much like our Delta Sigma meetings, the fellowship and camaraderie at the conference is next to none.

During the banquet, we sat in regions and I had to eat dinner with seven people I had never met before (my worst nightmare)! By the time the salad course was finished, I had discovered direct connections with five out of my seven tablemates! It was the ultimate ‘it’s a small world’ moment! The conference is really something that everyone should experience once in their DKG membership!”

As a first time convention attendee, Kelton reflected, “My favorite part was seeing WOMEN educators of all shapes, sizes, unique attributes, walks of life, and backgrounds being brought together for the benefit of ALL forms of education in NC. It was amazing to hear stories from them and learn how different we MAY seem to appear while connecting the common likenesses we share, which bond all of us deeper in DKG.”

The 2022 NC DKG Convention definitely embraced President Winstead’s theme “Linking the Past, Present and Future” in a myriad of ways.

The convention chorus, led by Dr. Rhonda Hager and accompanied by Edie Snider, performed during the Presidents Banquet and the Ceremony of Remembrance.

Memory and Forgetting

There is an increasing level of research being conducted and written on the subject of memory. Many individuals are dealing with memory loss and Alzheimer's disease, either directly or indirectly with family members. In the latest edition of DKG Bulletin: Collegial Exchange, NC DKG member Barbara Sheldon-Perry reviews and contrasts two books (listed below) in her article "Remembering and Forgetting: A Comparison of Two New Books." Both books, written in 2021, provide insights into memory and forgetting that are relevant to our personal lives and to education.

- Forgetting: The Benefits of Not Remembering by Scott Small
- Remember by Lisa Genova

Update MyProfile on DKG Website

Is your email up to date in your MyProfile with DKG? Have you changed jobs and had your previous school email listed? Added another email that you use more than the old one?

NC DKG leaders are trying to determine a better way to communicate with all members than asking presidents to do all the work. Accurate emails are needed, however!

Please login to the DKG website, go to MyDKG tab, and click on the pencil icon to update your information. The next step is to share your information with other DKG members (members only!) by clicking on the My Participation tab in the red bar and choosing Yes, include my profile in the Members Only Online Directory. Someone you met at convention may be trying to find you! Find a helpful tutorial on updating your MyProfile on the Communications and Marketing (C&M) Committee page.

NOTE: NC DKG News Editor Carol Bostian has found many incorrect email addresses in the DKG Members Online Directory for 2022-2024 chapter leaders. Incoming chapter presidents, treasurers, editors and webmasters need to verify their email addresses immediately.

May/June DKG News is Online

The May/June 2022 issue of DKG News is available on the DKG website in both pdf and Flipbook formats. Find it under the Publications tab. (Remember to log in first.)

Highlights of the newsletter include convention news, such as Sazerac House Museum on the front page, the Dress for Success convention project, DKGIEF tour of Mardi Gras World, and the convention app. Executive Director Nita Scott gives an update on the headquarters move—they're not ready for guests yet!
